JUDGE ROLE-PLAY CHARACTERIZATION

You are to assume the role of a new employee at FLOWER POWER, a local flower shop. You want to know why a flower shop needs to be concerned about safety and security and have asked a coworker (participant) to explain.

You will soon be handling incoming deliveries from vendors; placing flowers, bouquets and arrangements around the shop; making sure all inventory is well watered and enough glass vases are available for the florist's creations.

You do not understand why FLOWER POWER needs to be concerned with safety and security regulations and precautions for staff and for customers. You have asked a coworker (participant) to explain safety and security in operations.

The participant will present the information to you in a role-play to take place at the shop. You will begin the role-play by asking about operations.

During the course of the role-play you are to ask the following questions of each participant:

1. How does safety and security apply to our vendors?
2. Do we need to have safety and security precautions for our delivery drivers?

After the coworker (participant) has given you the information and has answered your questions, you will conclude the role-play by thanking the coworker (participant).

You are not to make any comments after the event is over except to thank the participant.

EVALUATION INSTRUCTIONS

The participants are to be evaluated on their ability to perform the specific performance indicators stated on the cover sheet of this event and restated on the Judge's Evaluation Form. Although you may see other performance indicators demonstrated by the participants, those listed in the Performance Indicators section are the critical ones you are measuring for this particular event.

Evaluation Form Interpretation

The evaluation levels listed below and the evaluation rating procedures should be discussed thoroughly with your event director and the other judges to ensure complete and common understanding for judging consistency.
